Target Audience: Managers and Supervisors. One of a series of classes designed for the entry level HR professionals, managers, and frontline supervisors.

CLASS OVERVIEW: The best way to avoid a union election is by being prepared. Many times having an organizational drive, a campaign, an election, or receiving an unfair labor charge is determined not by the situation managers are handed - but by the way managers handle the situations they encounter on a daily basis. This course covers the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA), the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), and card signing prevention. And, most importantly, it covers how supervisors can avoid an unfair labor practice charge. Sessions include instruction, role-play, and films - high participation and no lectures!
